RAILBOAD COMPANY SUED .-- The Metropoittan Ratiroad Company of Washington was made defendant in a suit filed yesterday in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia by Car O C. Brown, in which he claims $10,000 for an alleged assault upon him by agents of the defendant and also for false arrest. Brown alleges that he was a passenger on the Metropolitan Railroad Company on the 17th day of August, 1901, and that he offered the conductor of the company a Washington, Alexandria and Mount Verson Railway Company's ticket to pay his fare. The conductor refused to accept the ticket, it is said, and assumed Brown illegally and with force of arms ejected him from the car, and had him arrested and carried to the stationhouse and there confined, to his great injury and mortification. Brown further charges that he was on August 18, 1901, tried in the Police Court for disorderly conduct growing out of this case, and dismissed.

PETTY IN CHARLOTTESVILLE?—A rumor was current last night to the effect that Judge Norton, of the Corporation Court, has head Willis Petry removed from the Fairfax county jail, where he was carried Friday afternoon less for eafekeeping, to some point farther south. It is believed that the prisoner is in the jail at Charlottesville. This would prove a decided relief to an old offender who has been considerably exercised ever since the Alexandrian has been his fallow-prisoner lest a mob from this city should appear and lynch PETTY IN CHARLOTTESVILLE ?-
